Declaration of Interest

Why I want to be a part of the NUS Students' Computing Club Management Committee:

I love interacting with people to see how we can improve things and I am passionate about being on the ground and looking at how we can make a collective difference. More importantly, I've made many friends and met many many people who really made my freshman experience in computing fun and warm. It is this inclusive culture of giving that inspired me to try making a difference to the community.

List down all skill(s)/experience(s) relevant for your intended position:

- People skills: Walking on the ground and being approachable, talking to fellow peer-mates and seniors to see how we can fill the gaps and gather the opinions of students.
- Passion: To drive the initiatives for students so a tangible difference can be made.
- Teamwork: To be able to work with the rest of the MC and the rest of the student body for our intended outcomes and helping out with other cells' initiatives as a collective unit.
- Sincerity: To genuinely care for people, the community that translates into a desire to serve and the ability to empathise and relate to people.
